Handling of reports

Clients can fulfil their reporting obligation towards KELER the following ways:

- Manual upload to KELER's Trade Reporting system which enables Clients to immediately review the result of format- and logical verification performed on the report by KELER. Status confirmation sent by the Energy Market Agency shall also be available in the system once data has been processed.
- Via KELER's web-service solution, when both KELER's format- and logical verification and the Energy Market Agency's status feedback on the processed data shall be available in the confirmation response to initiating the web-service solution.

KELER's Trade Reporting system forwards all reports received and accepted immediately to the Energy Market Agency.

A report submitted by Clients is considered accepted by KELER once it is successfully received electronically and it has passed the format and logical verification.

According to REMIT, the reporting obligation becomes fulfilled once the Energy Market Agency confirmed its acceptance in a feedback message.

Withdrawal of reports with erroneous content or reports submitted by accident is not possible. Amendment or cancellation is possible by submitting a new, relevant report.

Operating hours

In case of manual report upload, confirmations are available on the web-based platform of the Trade Reporting system.

KELER's Service Desk shall immediately notify our Clients in case of a system error of KELER Trade Reporting - either communication related or technical - which disables report submission in the system. The notification shall contain the reason of the error and the expected recovery time. KELER's BCP procedure is outlined in the User Manual of the REMIT reporting service.
